

Kristianstad
University
Sweden

Save the date!

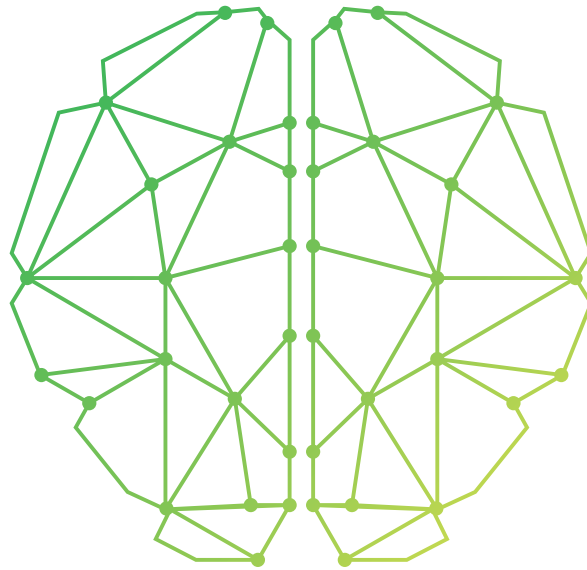

ILLUSTRATION: YOHAN, FREEPIK.COM

Kristianstad University proudly invites to a conference on the theme of

Universal Design for Learning

Universal Design for Learning (UDL) is a framework to improve and optimize teaching and learning for all students developed at CAST organisation in Boston. For more information please go to: www.cast.org

When: October 7th – October 8th 2020

How: Digital

Who: The conference is aimed at educational staff, school leaders and principals from preschool to upper secondary and adult education together with academic staff and researchers in higher education.

Why: To create a forum for educational practitioners and researchers with the aim of increasing the accessibility and learning for all students.

Keynote speaker:

Professor Richard Jackson, Boston College. Professor Jackson has worked with Universal Design for Learning in corporation with the CAST organisation for many years and has a solid knowledge and experience of UDL that he will share with us during the conference.

Session:

CAST organisation UDL in practice.

Abstract:

Deadline for abstract 21st of August, read more on the website, below for link.

Invitation to conference with program and link to registration: www.hkr.se/udl2020

The webpage will be updated continuously.